On-Campus Recruiting

On-campus recruiting provides employers the opportunity to reserve interview space at the Lear Center, while maintaining and supporting a strategic timeline for job postings, company candidate selection, and student interview sign-up. Applicants selected to move onto the interview process do so within a 28-day turnaround period beginning at the time the job is posted on MySpartanCareer.com and ending when interviews take place on campus.

Companies can correspond closely with the Lear Center throughout the process to ensure that the best candidates are received.

Job Postings

Job postings on MySpartanCareer.com for internship, co-op, part-time, and full-time positions broadcast professional and career opportunities that students can apply for to further their career.

Each posting has information regarding the company and position. Employers can collect documents and resumes through MySpartanCareer.com or can direct students to apply through the company website. Job postings can be posted on MySpartanCareer.com for any given period of time as determined by the company.

Career Events

Career events can optimize company awareness, networking, and professional development and career opportunities to gain access to a large number of potential candidates.

Additional Information Regarding Company Recruiting Options

If questions should arise regarding how you and your company can better elevate its presence at Michigan State University and within the Eli Broad College of Business, please contact the Lear Center Recruiting Manager, Jinny Bernotas, at (517) 432-8009 or at bernotas@broad.msu.edu.

Elevating Company Presence on Campus

Information Tables

Information tables are a great way for companies to increase their exposure to students about professional development and career opportunities. Tables are set up in the Business College Complex main hallway to allow employer interaction with students between classes.

Information tables are an ideal option for companies that are looking to build their company presence and relationship with students.

Information Sessions

By targeting students who are interested in learning more about the opportunities that are available within a company, information sessions equip employers with a strong recruiting presence before conducting on-campus interviews. These sessions can be held in a variety of different ways that companies feel will best engage students, and are typically scheduled during an evening in the Business College Complex or the Eppley Center.

Information sessions are only ideal if a company has established a strong presence and relationship with students.

Display Case

A great way to begin elevating company presence at the university is by reserving a display case in the hallway of the Eppley Center. Display cases help showcase and promote the company by providing their company apparel, posters, ideas, and its opportunities for students to see as they are passing by.

As Spartans, we continue our institution’s legacy of pioneering new ideas and initiatives. We welcome innovation and would love to implement ideas to further advance company success. If your company has something new you would like to try, let us help you!
